Dear Sir/Madam

Re: Breach of Covenant at your property

I refer to previous correspondence in respect of the above.

I now enclose a copy of a letter dated 7th April 2017 from Langleys Solicitors which fully explains the situation.

A letter of waiver for individual breaches and a Deed of Release to remove all of the covenants have been prepared.

Upon notification of how you wish to proceed, either the waiver letter or a completed Deed of Release will be forwarded to your solicitor to be held to our order until we have received the appropriate payment.

The matter will continue to be dealt with by Mr C C Gascoine to whom all future correspondence should be addressed to.

Yours sincerely

D W H Gascoine
